

Living Well - A Tale to Tell...

He Never Stopped Loving Her

(Words and music R Arbuckle (IMRO))

It was love at first glance
For the blue eyed boy and the blue jean girl
His heart had no chance It was hers at first glance

And he never stopped loving her
The blue eyed boy loved the blue jean girl
Their hearts intertwined It was love for all time

And he never stopped loving her
Never stopped loving her
No matter what came between
He never stopped loving her never stopped loving her
So plain for to be seen

But then they were parted
By men who hate what they don't understand
The bitter hard hearted Guns in their hands

For it was then he was warned
If you love this girl you'll leave her alone
It's not safe to go on You must leave her alone

But he never stopped loving her Never stopped loving her
No matter what came between
He never stopped loving her he never stopped loving her
So plain for to be seen

Then they found each other
After living so long so far apart
And their love grew stronger
No more broken hearts

Yes their love was stronger
The second time around it was deeper
And she always felt safer wrapped up in his arms

It was love at first glance
For the blue eyed boy and the blue jean girl
His heart had no chance It was hers at first glance
